Paper on the face for the print, mesh on the back for the air. It reads as a paper pack on the shelf, which is what a buyer moving away from all-plastic is usually after, without giving up ventilation.

WORKS GREAT FOR Garlic

Garlic sold in paper-forward retail programmes. The paper face carries origin and variety; the mesh back keeps the bulbs from sweating.
Citrus

Mandarins and small citrus counts where the chain has committed to reducing plastic in the produce aisle but the fruit still has to breathe.
Paper-forward retail programmes

Any category where the retailer's packaging commitment is the reason for the change rather than the product's own requirements.
